Diversification and strategic asset allocation do not assure a profit or guarantee against loss in declining markets. Please remember that all investments carry some level of risk. Investments in global equity may be significantly affected by political or economic conditions and regulatory requirements in a particular country. International markets can involve risks of currency fluctuation, political and economic instability, different accounting standards and foreign taxation. Emerging or frontier markets involve exposure to economic structures that are generally less diverse and mature. The less developed the market, the riskier the security. Such securities may be less liquid and more volatile.

The decision to use PMA in investors' portfolios and related investment advice are provided through financial advisors and other financial intermediaries that are independent of RIM and its affiliates. Investors should consult their financial advisor to determine which services and programs are appropriate to meet their investment objectives.
